

This is a legal agreement between you (either an individual or an entity) and the Province of British Columbia ("the Province"). Before ordering data from the British Columbia Geographic Warehouse ("the BCGW") you should carefully read the following terms and conditions. Using the Data Distribution Service ("the service") to acquire data indicates your acceptance of these terms and conditions.

Although the Province of British Columbia has used considerable efforts in preparing the information available in the BCGW, the Province does not warrant the accuracy, completeness, timeliness, merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose of any information available through this service. Furthermore, the Province does not guarantee in any way that it is providing all the information that may be available.

In view of the temporal (i.e. changes of time) nature of the data, it is the responsibility of the acquirer of the data to advise users of the age and status of the data.

The Province does not warrant that the BCGW will function without error, failure or interruption.

Metadata records associated with a BCGW product may also specify conditions which you are also acknowledging by agreeing to these terms.

Where applicable as indicated in the metadata record, all right and title to the data, including copyright, remain with the Province.

The Province shall not be liable to you or anyone else for any loss or injury caused in whole or part by the Province in procuring, compiling, or delivering the service and any information through the service. In no event will the Province be liable to you or anyone else for any decision made or action taken by you or anyone else in reliance on this service.

The results of your order are not intended to serve as a definitive statement of all land and resource information.
